This does NOT make you a bad person; it makes you human. Harry Hanson was a legislator in the second half of the 19th century, it was pointed out that whereas specific sums were favourable in former times, as the given sum was the amount payable to the wife as a minimum, the inflation caused the sums specified in the legislation to be ridiculously low. The program employed a cognitive-behavioral approach and it subscribed to the risk-need-responsivity model of effective correctional intervention.
